Code of Conduct

It is the desire of the CFBA to provide a non-threatening and comfortable learning environment, which allows families to be focused on intense study of Biblical financial and business principles during the classes. As a result, it is requested that each attendee acknowledge a willingness to abide by this simple code of conduct.

- Professional & conservative language, behavior, and attire are required. Business casual attire is suggested.
- Adults & attentive children 12 years old and over, who are accompanied by an adult and are interested in learning to own and operate a business any time in the future are encouraged to attend. Parents agree to supervise their children who are in attendance.
- The CFBA is non-denominational in teaching. We request that any discussion of religious doctrine be done outside of CFBA classes.
- Attendees who have an interest in a business or apprenticeship opportunity may express interest to the party listed as the contact on opportunities posted on the website. Selling products or Soliciting attendees for any business not posted on the CFBA website is strictly prohibited.

Although the CFBA will make every attempt to provide a safe environment for the safety of your family while at this event, we can not accept responsibility for personal, or business loss, injury or damages. Attendance and participation is voluntary and attendees should have their own insurance coverage to cover any accident or injury. The parents agree to accept all responsibility and hold harmless Buildings for Babies, Christian Family Business Association, The Schamel Family, or any other party for any damages resulting from any activity, accident, business venture or medical emergency. Parents are responsible to supervise your children. Please review and acknowledge that you have read and agree to these conditions and Code of Conduct.
